

LETTER OF RELEASE and CONFIDENTIALITY

Regarding Letter of Release: I have read and listened to the pre-requisites before making an appointment on the website pages of Altogether Lovely Ministries called LISTENING EAR or LEARN ENGLISH for the fee-based aspect(s) of Altogether Lovely Ministries. I have read the MINISTRY INFO page, read the GOD IN YOUR HEART teaching, and listened to the sermon called A CHEERFUL HEART. As well I have read the PRIVACY POLICY – TERMS OF USE at the bottom of each page of the website. I understand that people working with Altogether Lovely Ministries are NOT registered psychologists or psychiatrists but are lay persons who have ministered for years to people through mentoring evangelical, born-again Christian, and Bible-based thoughts and beliefs for those interested. I also understand that Altogether Lovely Ministries workers share their experiences, strength, hope, and faith in Christ Jesus. I understand that I am responsible for what I am involved with and that I can discern what is best for myself. I also understand that the internet is NOT something to be fully trusted and I have made a first appointment so I can discern if this is for me or not. I also understand that after that appointment I can decide whether or not to continue. I also realize that Altogether Lovely Ministries comes alongside of those struggling in their Christian walk and who may or may not be already in counseling. I release all rights of indemnity to Altogether Lovely Ministries as I believe I am capable of making choices for myself or am able to talk to someone else who can also guide me if needed.

Regarding CONFIDENTIALITY, Altogether Lovely Ministries wishes to keep all information whether written or spoken private. They will never release information and will do their very best to keep people's confidentiality just that: confidential. Please let us know if you are uncomfortable with anything.
